Invitation to CHINA MINING 2023

Dear Friends,

The 25th China Mining Conference and Exhibition (CHINA MINING 2023) will be held at Tianjin Meijiang Convention Center of Tianjin China on October 26-28, 2023 in a combination of "offline+online". The event is supervised by the Ministry of Natural Resources PRC and Tianjin Municipal People's Government, hosted by China Mining Association, and organized by Tianjin Minexpo Co., Ltd.

Since first held in 1999, the annual China Mining Conference and Exhibition has become one of the largest and most influential mining events in the world, covering the whole value chain of geological survey and evaluation, exploration and exploitation, technology and equipment, investment and finance, trade and services, etc. More than 400 exhibitors and over 10,000 conference delegates and professional visitors from more than 70 countries and regions are attracted to attend the event, seeking cooperation and business opportunities.

As an exercise of the spirit of the 20th CPC National Congress and Xi Jinping Thought on Diplomacy and in service of national diplomatic strategies, overall economic development and the security of energy and resources, CHINA MINING 2023 takes on the theme of Innovation-driven High-quality Development of Mining. Following the principle of openness, inclusiveness, mutual benefit and win-win results and the concept of high quality development, this session will help promote the building of a new pattern of domestic and international "dual circulation" development and the construction of the "the Belt and Road", accelerate the early realization of China's "dual carbon" strategic goal, and together with our international partners, make contributions to jointly build a bright future of mining globalization. At the same time, this event will discuss the international mining development situation, key and difficult issues in mining as well as key and core issues in China's international mining production capacity cooperation. It will focus on the strategic mineral supply and demand situation, assist in New round of breakthrough strategic actions in mineral exploration, continuously promote the construction of innovation-driven, reform-led, green and safe, inclusive and shared, open and mutually beneficial mining, and steadily promote the cross-border integration and development of industries such as science & technology and equipment manufacturing, investment & financing and trade & services, legal and regulatory consulting, and green development, etc. Under the background and requirements of the development of the new era of mining, we will strive to build the China Mining Conference and Exhibition into a platform for communication and cooperation of a global mining community with a shared future and a stage for telling the story of China's mining industry.

China Mining Conference and Exhibition will strive to provide higher-quality services for mining enterprises to participate in international mining capacity cooperation and achieve win-win development, build a more efficient platform of dialogue, exchange and cooperation, enhance exchanges and cooperation between Chinese enterprises and overseas partners in geological survey, mineral exploration, exploitation, processing, technology and equipment, investment and finance, trade and services, and jointly promote the prosperity and high-quality sustainable development of mining industry.

CHINA MINING 2023 welcomes your participation to celebrate the biggest annual industry gathering in Tianjin China.
